Programming in Java

Java is a computer programming language. It enables programmers to write computer instructions using English-based commands instead of having to write in numeric codes. It's known as a high-level language because it can be read and written easily by humans. Like English, Java has a set of rules that determine how the instructions are written

Programming in .Net

Programming in the .NET environment provides insights and examples for using the latest enhancements provided by the .NET framework. The text is mostly language agnostic, though some of the code examples are in C#, but the concepts apply to all .NET enabled languages

HTML

The HyperText Markup Language or HTML is the standard markup language for documents designed to be displayed in a web browser. It can be assisted by technologies such as Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) and scripting languages such as JavaScript
